In Year 13

- Working in Health and Social Care (Unit 2) - exam
- Psychological Perspectives (Unit 11) – c/w

Human Lifespan Development

- This is an exam and contains quite a lot of the information you learnt in your Level 2 Component 3 exam (but don't worry if you did not do level 2 as we will be covering everything).
- You will look at how people change and develop over their lifetime.
- You will be asked questions about old age, puberty, genetic diseases, dementia, relationships, self esteem and much more

Meeting Individual Care and Support Needs

This is a large piece of coursework that looks at individuals with specific needs such as learning disabilities and addiction etc.

You will be writing about how they can be supported and the laws and policies that exist to protect them and make sure they are not discriminated against.

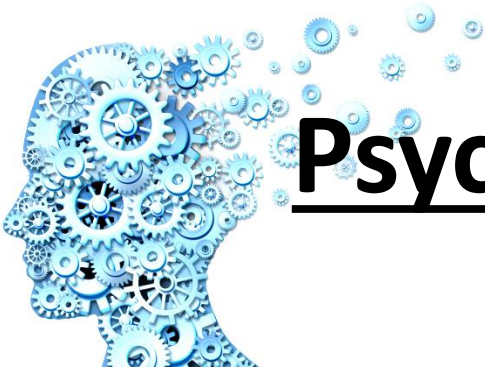

Working in Health and Social Care

In this exam students will explore what it is like to work in the health and social care sector, including the roles and responsibilities of workers and organisations.

You will look at a variety of roles within the NHS and how they can treat and support people with different needs.

Psychological Perspectives

In this coursework you will explore key theoretical perspectives that have been put forward on psychological and physical development and how they are applied in different health and social care settings.

You will look closely at post traumatic stress disorder and other mental health conditions and the treatment available to them.

Progression to Higher Education

“Ninety-five per cent of universities and colleges in the UK accept BTEC students, including competitive universities from the Russell Group. In 2015, over a quarter of students accepted into higher education held at least one BTEC.

Nearly all universities accept BTECs in relevant subject areas, similar to how they would with equivalent A-level qualifications.

BTEC students can often be better prepared in terms of the independent studying that’s required at degree level, due to the portfolio-based nature of BTEC courses. The time management and self-organisation you’ll pick up on a BTEC course can also give you an added edge.”
