AQA Education (AQA) is a registered charity (number 1073334) and a company limited by guarantee registered in England and Wales (number 3644723). Our registered address is AQA, Devas Street, Manchester M15 6EX.

We are an education charity

Providing high quality assessments that are fair, reliable, and support students in their educational journey.

Everyone has the potential to achieve, so we make sure that our qualifications give all students the opportunity to show what they can do and progress to the next stage of their lives. Our qualifications are designed for students of all abilities and are highly valued by employers and universities and taught in more than 40 countries around the world.

We're the biggest exam board in England, and we set and mark over half of all GCSEs and A-levels taken in the UK every year. We work with around 30,000 teachers, lecturers, subject experts and academics who help set and mark our exams.

Born out of five leading universities, we have over a century of qualifications expertise. These public exam boards came into existence to provide an opportunity for young people from a range of backgrounds to access education and make the most of their potential. This commitment to social mobility remains at the heart of AQA's charitable purpose, which is to advance education by enabling teachers and students to realise their potential.

Summer 2025 exam fees

We provide market-leading specifications and first-class support services that are excellent value for money. All our fees include a comprehensive support and training package for teachers.

Our aim is always to keep our prices fair and competitive – and we understand that no one wants to see prices increase - but like many other organisations we're experiencing a rise in the cost of providing our services.

Entry fees for our qualifications have increased so they better reflect the market and the true costs of delivering these qualifications. This approach means we can continue to:

- offer the widest range of qualifications,
- invest in our qualifications,
- improve our support services.

Entry fees for international schools

The entry fee for overseas schools entering for AQA qualifications has increased by more to cover both the rising costs of delivery and the additional security needed when exams sat are sat internationally. This increase does not apply to any schools in British Overseas Territories.

Where the money goes

As an independent charity, we work hard to manage our costs because being careful with our money means we can help more teachers and students realise their potential.

We reinvest our income back into education. This means we're able to continuously improve our qualifications and assessments and the support we provide and means we're able to continue to offer qualifications with low numbers of entries. It also funds other educational services, such as assessment research that benefits the whole education system. As well as paying for our assessment services, exam fees enable us to invest in the quality of our examining teams and to offer a comprehensive support and training package for teachers, including:

- our subject and curriculum experts
- subject resources (Plan, Teach, Assess)
- Enhanced Results Analysis (ERA)
- dedicated support and advice on non-exam assessment (NEA).

Our fees mean we can invest in the future

We reinvest entry fees into creating and delivering high quality qualifications and assessments and offering as wide a choice of subjects as possible – along with comprehensive support and training packages for teachers – now and in the future. It also means we're able to subsidise some of our qualifications.

Income from fees also enables us to invest in our technology to develop and maintain a secure, modern, cloud-based platform, which will help protect both us and our customers from the growing cyber threat. It also means we can invest in the future of assessment, such as our cutting-edge research to help inform policy decisions, as well as our new on-screen assessment research and development work.

Our fees are also used to provide the best possible resource and support materials, for example our new adaptive maths test AQA Stride. The test allows teachers to pinpoint gaps in a student's conceptual knowledge – saving them time, and empowering students who then know what they need to do to improve. As a charity, we believe everyone should benefit from this and so AQA Stride is being fully funded by us and available to schools and colleges in England for free.

We're committed to providing comprehensive support for our teachers including new and improved resources, curriculum connect sessions, Inside assessment Continuous Professional Development and Senior Leadership Team webinars. You'll always have the latest specification resources with AQA - giving you the assurance, confidence, and clarity you need to succeed.

Supporting good teaching and learning

We enable great teaching and learning by investing in our qualifications and a wide range of resources, support and services through the AQA family – Exampro and Testbase. Exampro and Testbase question banks have been used in primary and secondary schools throughout the country for over 20 years.

Exampro provides teachers with easy access to AQA past questions and ready-made resources for use in school-based assessment. MERiT enables schools to make the best use of AQA mock exams with useful comparative performance data and reports.
