Notes for teachers:

The aim of the We Read parent launch is to make parents aware how important their role is in their child's reading and that the school wants to work in partnership with them.

As an opening question, perhaps you could ask parents to think about what they want their child to achieve this year. Often it can be just the school presenting a child's targets to parents but asking this simple question for them to think about will do so much to show them that their input is crucial to their child's success.

On slide 10 you will see we suggest launching the digital reading log with a 'reading challenge' to help motivate families early on – we have suggested some ideas in the 'notes' section and you may want to input a suitable challenge onto the slide. You could reward any child who completes the challenge with one of our certificates by downloading one from your class page on the platform.

You can read top tips for launching We Read here. If you have any questions about your parent launch or using the digital reading log you can contact us at schools@learningwithparents.com
