Special Educational Needs

What kinds of Special Educational needs are provided for at West Town Primary Academy?

Meridian is an inclusive and equitable trust, existing to provide, support and champion high-quality education at the heart of our local communities.

West Town Primary Academy aims to unite our pupils, families and other local stakeholders within our community. We are dedicated to being an inclusive school, where every child is known, equally valued and supported to achieve their potential.

Within our diverse community, we celebrate and learn from each other with an understanding that each child and young person is a unique individual with their own strengths “superpowers,” and differences.

Children identified with Special Educational Needs will require support that is additional to or different from the support generally given to pupils of the same age through quality first teaching. This support may be required for a short period of time or longer-term dependent on the individual.

We provide a graduated response to children’s needs, which begins with quality first teaching. This approach ensures that reasonable adjustments and adaptations are part of a fluid approach to SEND, with early identification and support overseen by the Inclusion Team. Every child is given an appropriate level of support and at the same time, encouraged to become independent learners.

SEND is categorised into the following areas in the SEND Code of Practice 2014:

- Cognition & Learning
- Communication & Interaction
- Social, Emotional & Mental Health
- Sensory and/or Physical

Identifying and Assessing Need

How does the school know if children/ young people need extra help and what should I do if I think my child/young person may have special educational needs?

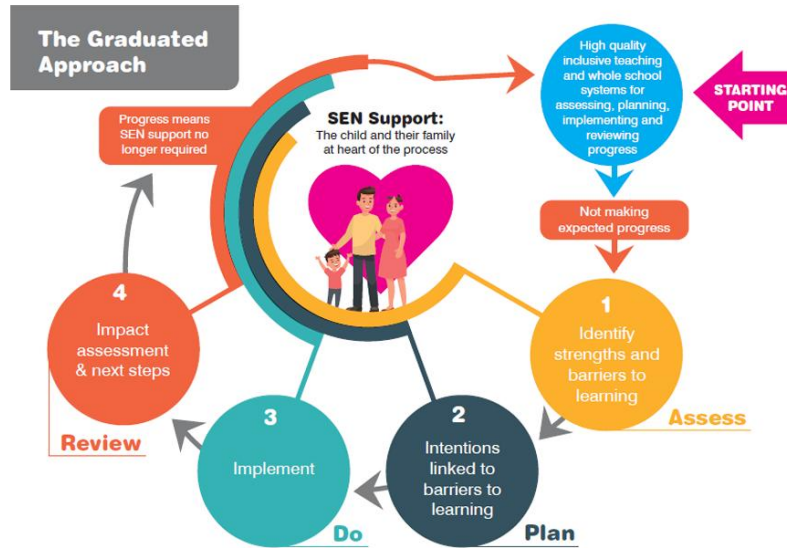

- If you have a concern about your child’s development or an area of learning, speak to their class teacher first. The class teacher will know your child’s strengths; areas they need support with and how they are progressing in school.
- Where a member of staff has a concern about a child’s development or a difficulty, they will discuss the concern with you first.
- We will work in partnership with you and your child, listening to your views and any concerns.
- Assessment and pupil progress data – termly progress data is monitored by each key stage leader and the SENCo.
- Previous progress, attainment and learning behaviours.
- Observations of you child in school.
- Information shared by previous schools/early years settings.

At West Town and across Meridian Trust, we follow a four wave, graduated approach to identifying and supporting children with special educational needs:

If my child is having difficulty with an area of learning, how will they be supported?

- We will work with you and your child to identify strategies and support that may be required.
- The SENCo may work with the class teacher to support them in making adaptations and adjustments for your child.
- The process can be summed up by – Assess, Plan, Do, Review. Our graduated approach details how we complete these cycles.
- If after one or two cycles of Assess, Plan, Do, Review we all agree that there is a Special Educational Need, we will discuss this with you and add your child to the SEN register which means we recognise that your child requires support that is additional to or different from the support generally given to pupils of the same age through high quality first teaching.
- Where necessary, external agencies will be used to ensure that the provision is appropriate for your child’s needs and will help them make progress.

Assessing and reviewing pupil’s progress towards outcomes, including opportunities available to work with parents and pupils as part of this assessment and review?

- School data tracking for pupil progress
- Support plan and EHCP reviews
- Progress on interventions
- Observations and follow up
- Parent teacher meetings
- Additional SEND parent consultations
- Use of more specialist assessments conducted by the SENCo

Our approach to teaching children with SEND

What is the school’s approach to teaching pupils with SEND?

We are an inclusive school. Wherever possible children are taught alongside their peers in flexible teaching groups with reasonable adjustments made where appropriate.

Teachers adapt their high-quality teaching to cater for their pupils’ needs and plan individual timetables where necessary. When appropriate, staff are deployed to give children additional interventions in small groups or to provide more intensive support.

How does our school meet the needs of our SEND pupils?

Our school operates a graduated response to SEND which means that the following support is put in, in order:

- Quality first teaching strategies with appropriate adaptive teaching in place and reasonable adjustments
- Extra adult support in classrooms where appropriate
- Focused small group work
- Time limited interventions
- Individualised timetables and specialist support

Curriculum adaptations & adjustments

How are adaptations made to the curriculum and the learning environment of pupils with SEND?

The curriculum/learning environment may be adapted by:

- Making reasonable adjustments e.g. additional resources, flexible seating arrangements, sensory breaks

- Access arrangements for tests and or examinations

We use a range of strategies across our lessons. We also seek advice and equipment from outside agencies as and when the need arises.

Parent Consultations

How are parents of children with special educational needs involved in the school?

You will meet with the class teacher to discuss your child's progress, review their achievements and targets each term.

The class teacher will write a plan based on their assessments of your child's needs and review this and share this with you.

This is known as an APDR – Assess, Plan, Do, Review. Your views and your child's views will be part of this process.

If your child has an Education, Care and Health plan we will also meet formally each year to review the plan, celebrate success and adapt the plan to continually reflect the needs of your child as they grow and change

Face to face meetings, telephone conversations and informal discussions will ensure a good partnership between home and school. The class teacher is your first point of contact. A member of the SEN team is available to meet should you have any concerns about your child.

Some pupils have home/school diaries for sending messages between home and school.

In addition to meetings with class teachers, the SENCO may hold additional meetings with you to discuss progress and provision and to feedback assessments and observations.

Questionnaires are sent out to gain your feedback.

We invite you to attend multi-agency meetings and meeting with outside agencies to give their views.

You will be asked to contribute to one-page profiles for your child’s support plan.

We run information sessions (coffee mornings)
